Buy-side Trading Head

The Challenge: Counterparty choice

Am I getting access to the best liquidity providers and guaranteeing best execution for my clients?

The Counterparty Radar solution

The service gives detailed insight into who the main providers are across:

instrument

currency pair

trade size

tenor

Given the time and cost involved in adding new dealers, funds need to know they're selecting the right counterparties for the basket of instruments currently traded.

This helps to ensure that funds are approaching dealers who can offer the best price for trades.

How else can the tool help me?

The service will also give insight into three other areas, each of which will help build a holistic picture of the market:

1

How is the performance of my dealers changing over time?

2

What are the trends among other funds?

3

Liquidity trends in the instruments I trade
